This beautiful offering is the first book from award-winning interior designer Pippa Paton. Sumptuously illustrated in a hard-backed large-format package, the book showcases the diversity of buildings in the Cotswolds, celebrating the breadth of contemporary styles favoured by those who have chosen to make this corner of England their home.

The stunning buildings featured, from rustic agricultural aesthetic through to industrial chic, serve as inspiration to those of us who have dreamed of pulling off effortless style but may need a helping hand. There's even a beautifully restored Dunkirk Little Ship among the projects. And, as a tribute to those who make it all possible, we're also introduced to the craftspeople behind the projects, from blacksmiths and potters to master stonemasons. Quite lovely.
